Handmade products are purchased by many people in the market. There is a separate market available, and many consumers are buying products from it. Many brokerage offices are functioning to market the hand-made materials. So, on this web site, sellers can register their handcrafted products by giving their details. Then the buyers can login by providing their details on this website and search for the desired product. They can send a request for the product if they need to purchase it. The request will be sent to the admin login, and if the admin accepts the request, then the product is considered sold. This website will help both sellers and buyers enhance their economic growth by selling handmade products. This website is developed in PHP and MySQL. The user interface is designed in such a way that everyone can easily use this web site. This helps in promoting the hand-made products in an effective manner.
